

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Of the Founding of the Brigham Young Academy.

APPROPRIATE EXERCISES.

Parade of Students in the Morning Followed by Speeches, Athletics and a Ball.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Oct. 17.—Yesterday was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Brigham Young Academy. Extensive preparations had been made to celebrating the reaching of the quarter of a century mark. Patriotism everywhere abounded. The day was propitious for the occasion.

At 9 o'clock the parade commenced with about seven hundred students participating. First came a horseman carrying the Stars and Stripes, followed by Darton's silver band. Then followed another horseman with the academy flag, white and blue, after which came the classes in their order of seniority, led by their class presidents and standard bearers. Lastly came the faculty. All together they made a very imposing appearance. Distinguished visitors rode back and forth in a carriage, taking in the sight.

The line of march led first down to the Z. C. M. I. warehouse, where the academy was once temporarily located, thence down Center street to where the institution was first commenced. Here the students formed in a hollow square and were addressed briefly by President Brimhall and Dr. Karl G. Maeser, the first principal of the school, then numbering twenty-nine students. The college song was rendered after which the parade marched to the academy.

College hall presented a very pretty appearance. The rostrum was tastefully decorated with flowers and evergreens. On the stand stood a bust of President Young. At the back of the rostrum artistically arranged, were the Stars and Stripes, the white and blue flag, and the banners of the higher classes, while leaning against the side walls were the other banners. There exists a friendly rivalry between the classes to see which can have the most beautiful banner, and the result is that each one in the selected class colors. The of art, costing from $20 to $40. The of art, costing from $20 to $40. The of art, costing from $20 to $40.

THE MEETING.

President Brimhall was master of ceremonies. On the rostrum were many prominent men of the State, among them were President Joseph F. Smith, Reed Smoot and Karl G. Maeser, besides various members of the board. The choir under the able management of Prof. Lund rendered the beautiful song, "The Bright Morning Star," followed by a prayer offered by President Brimhall.

The opening address was given by President Brimhall in his characteristically interesting manner. The sight before him, he said, was imposing, and felt that God would be gratified at the picture. President Smith next addressed the students. He reviewed the past struggles of the academy for existence, but felt that God had blessed the institution. He then turned to the future, and said that the academy was now in a position to be a great blessing to the world. He urged that students in all their getting should not forget to seek the Spirit of God.

The work of God, said the speaker, is progressing rapidly, and it was through His inspiration that President Brigham Young had founded this institution. He said it was God's school, and it must grow and expand, even beyond what we may expect. "God had manifested Himself many times," he said, "and would continue to inspire those who are placed in authority. If these were my last words on earth I would want to bear testimony that God lives and that He has restored His priesthood to those who now act with authority in His name. President Young was led to found this school that the young side of young men and young women might be educated in the things of God."

Karl G. Maeser then arose and said that he was grateful to God for the occasion. He said in part: "While on my seat a panorama of academy pictures passed before my mind. At the commencement of this great outward growth, it had been my policy to teach correct principles, and the students had governed themselves. Line upon line, precept upon precept, was given me by my heavenly Father in the directing of his hand. Many bitter lessons were received when I did not solicit the aid of the Spirit of God, while everything had been plain to me when I went to my heavenly Father." The students then sang "The Spirit of God."

Mrs. Maria Holt, the mother of the family which has established a laboratory in the academy, occupied a few moments when I did not solicit the aid of the Spirit of God, while everything had been plain to me when I went to my heavenly Father."

G. S. Beckstead, representing the family that established the mechanical

MUNYON'S INHALER CURES CATARRH

Colds, Coughs, Hay Fever, Bronchitis, Asthma and all Diseases of the Throat and Lungs.

It is a fact that Catarrh of the Throat and Lungs is a disease which cannot be reached by medicine taken into the stomach. It reaches the seat of the disease—its cure is a matter of time. It costs but a few cents to cure the whole system—$1.00 at drugists or sent by mail. 1505 Arch St., Phila.

NEW LABORATORY.

President Brimhall announced that another family—the Hinckley family—had decided to found a laboratory of natural science. Prof. E. S. Hinckley responded in behalf of the family. He stated that he felt that the scientists of the future, studying the subject in the light of our religion, would come from this institution. The world is astray in many things he maintained, and it rested with the Latter-day Saints to overthrow these false ideas and discover the truth.

In behalf of the board Apostle Reed Smoot made a speech of acceptance. He said that he felt honored in so doing, and thanked the Hinckley family from the bottom of his heart that God had led them to establish the fourth laboratory in the Brigham Young Academy. He paid a tribute to the memory of the founder and the supporters of the institution.

Francis Kirkham then represented the students in a few well chosen words. President John said in his review of the past: "The burning of the old building was considered a calamity, but it had turned out to be a blessing."

The feelings of the faculty were expressed by President Brimhall. For every step in advance, he said, the teachers render thanks to God. "The dark days of the academy were over and God would open the windows of heaven and provide for our wants."

President Brimhall, in a spirit of appreciation and commendation, then brought to the minds of the assembly that the Hinckley family, from which there was no representative present, had established a laboratory in the academy.

The choir and audience sang: "We thank thee, O God, for a Prophet and Redeemer." Benediction was offered by Judge John E. Booth. In the afternoon the athletics held sway on the town square. The missionary class was pitted against the rest of the school. The track events were won by the future carriers of the Gospel, while the school cheered off the ball game, the score being 6 to 4.

A grand ball ended the day's celebration. Room D appeared very good and the dancing was somewhat crowded. All enjoyed themselves.

LATE LOCAL NEWS.

A marriage license was issued today to Robert E. Gray and Edna Peterson, of Salt Lake, and Edna Peterson, of Alpine, Utah county.

The officers of the Young Ladies' M. I. A., the primary association and the Relief Society will meet this evening to consider plans for the new building the societies are going to erect upon the property on Temple avenue, recently tendered them by President Smith.

There will be a farewell benefit given Elder James Iverson in the Second ward meeting house tonight at 8 o'clock p. m. Good talent has been selected and an enjoyable time is expected. All friends invited.

SALE OF WATER BONDS.

All the information necessary for the sale of the $250,000 waterworks improvement bonds asked for by W. P. O'Meara and company, the local agents of Shepard & Co., of New York, was today furnished by Deputy Recorder J. O. Nyström, and the sale of the bonds, it is expected, will be consummated in the course of a week or ten days.

WAS PROMISED PROPERTY.

Dr. Park's Will Contrary to His Alleged Promise.

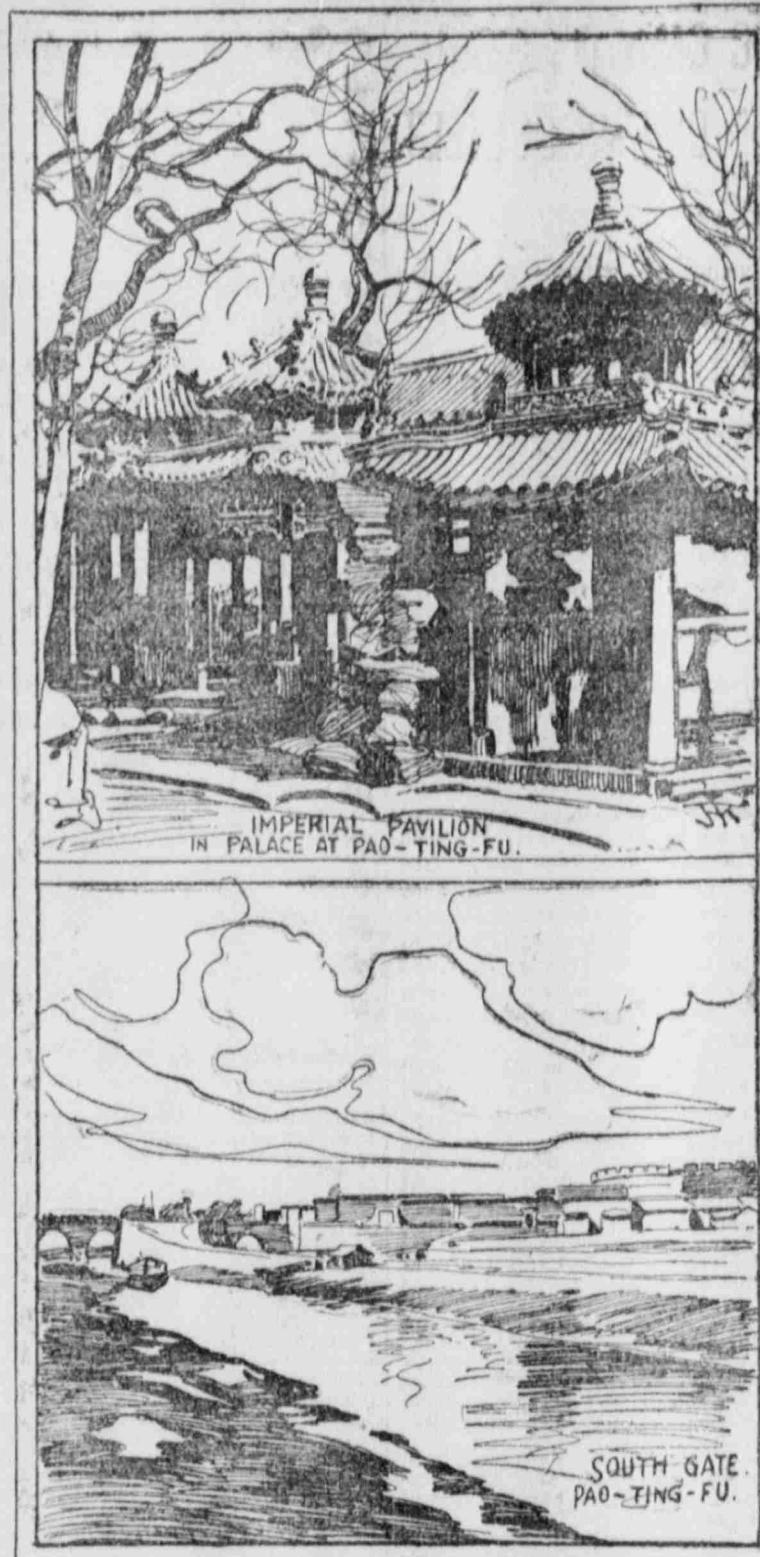

Another note of discord has arisen over the will of the late Dr. John R. Park. It falls from Prof. and Mrs. Roylance, the latter a foster child of the doctor's, and one who waited upon him faithfully up to the time of his death. Prof. Roylance is connected with the University as one of its faculty, and was Dr. Park's assistant and right hand man. During the latter's incumbency of the office of State school superintendent.

The professor states that no word of complaint would have been uttered had him or his wife had it not been for an element of deception he alleges exists in the affair. He states that the doctor about a year ago called him and his wife to his house, and there expressed the belief that he would not live long, and that he was going to make his will, and there voluntarily proffered to them the house he was then in, and the property on State street. Prof. Roylance expressed to the doctor his gratitude for the generous gift, and acting upon the well warranted belief that the property would fall into his hands, he expended several hundred dollars in improving it, absolutely free of any suspicion to the contrary until the will was published. It was a two-fold shock to them, the greater of which lay in the deception that was practiced, the first they ever knew the doctor to use; second, the disappointment after being led to the belief that the estate would come to them. But they propose to obtain their rights if it is possible.

THOUGHT TO BE INSANE.

An information, signed and sworn to by John S. Ebert, was filed in the Third district court today, charging Jennie B. Winterwood with insanity, and further alleging that she is fit subject for custody and treatment in the State insane asylum.

The woman, who is said to be a widow, is boarding at a rooming house on N. 323 south State street. She was booked for a hearing before Clerk Blair this afternoon.

IMPERIAL PAVILION IN PALACE AT PAO-TING-FU.

PAO-TING-FU, THE OBJECTIVE POINT OF FIELD MARSHAL VON WALTERSEE'S PUNITIVE EXPEDITION.

ALTHOUGH the United States, Russia and Japan have ceased offensive warfare against the Chinese, the other allies under Field Marshal von Waldersee are making Pao-Ting-Fu, where 2,000 native convicts were massacred recently, the objective point of a punitive expedition. Pao-Ting-Fu is about 95 miles southwest of Peking.

BISHOP RAWLINS'S WILL.

Filed for Probate Today Naming Senator Rawlins as Executor.

Estate is Valued at $11,000 and Consists for the Greater Part of Real Estate in this County.

The will of the late Bishop Joseph S. Rawlins, dated October 5th, 1900, and witnessed by W. J. Kerr, of Logan, and G. L. Goldman, of Murray, was filed for probate today. Accompanying the document was a petition from Senator Joseph L. Rawlins, son of the deceased, asking that the same be admitted to probate, and that letters testamentary issue to him in accordance with the expressed wish of the deceased as set forth in his last will. The deceased left property, consisting of real estate in Draper and Murray precincts, three shares of Utah Sugar company's stock, 100 shares in the East Jordan Irrigation company, 10 shares of the stock of the Taylorville and Murray creamery company, promissory notes amounting to $300; $150 cash on deposit, three horses and two colts, of the total value of $11,000.

The heirs are the widow, Mary Rawlins, Joseph L. Rawlins, Mary Jane Kerr, James L. Rawlins, Hannah Terry, Lily P. Brown, Martha S. Fitzgerald, Lucy Day and Orson Whitman Rawlins, some and daughters and grandchildren of deceased. October 21st was set for the hearing.

Probate Orders.

Estate of James Rawlins, deceased; William Rawlins appointed administrator under $350 bond.

Estate of Thomas Bailey, deceased; admitted to probate, and Emily W. Bailey appointed administratrix without bond.

Estate and guardianship of Allen E. Park et al, minors; order made for sale of real property.

Estate of Charles Gustavson, deceased; Lavina Gustavson appointed administratrix, bond $1,000.

Estate of Marion C. Kohl, deceased; Henry Kohl appointed administrator under a $100 bond.

Estate of Charles B. Tuckfield, deceased; sum of $50 per month allowed for family of deceased.

Estate of Mary Ann Jeffs, deceased; Ephraim Jeffs appointed administrator; bond $300.

GRAND LARCENY CASE.

John Zweifel Dismissed for Want of Jurisdiction, but is Held on Bond.

The trial of John Zweifel on the charge of grand larceny, which has been on before Judge Norrell and jury since Monday, came to an abrupt termination this morning by the court sustaining a motion of counsel for the accused to dismiss the case for the want of jurisdiction. The defendant was charged with stealing ten head of cattle from Andrew McDonald of Park City. The alleged theft occurred in Wasatch county and it was claimed by the prosecution that Zweifel brought the cattle to Salt Lake, where he disposed of them. When the State rested its case, the defendant's attorney moved for a dismissal on the ground that the case ought to be tried in Wasatch county. Judge Norrell took the matter under advisement and this

We've a little book on the hair and its diseases which tells you a good many things you should know. It's full of pictures, too, of what Ayer's Hair Vigor has done for all sorts and conditions of people.

We should be glad to send you one. A postal card request will do.

J. C. AYER COMPANY, Practical Chemists, Lowell, Mass.

Ayer's Serrapilla, Ayer's Pills, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, Ayer's Hair Vigor, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, Ayer's Constancy.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

The total registration in Eureka numbers 32.

Judge Botkin delivered a speech at Tooele last night.

George A. Smith addressed a large gathering at Fairview Monday evening.

A rally was held at Indianola last night. The speaker was Andrew Jensen.

Tom Fitch will speak at Kaysville tonight and will speak in Ogden Friday night.

Hon. George A. Sutherland and C. E. Allen will speak at Sandy on the 23rd inst.

Col. W. D. Sherman addressed a meeting at Richmond last evening. He will speak at Lewiston this evening.

A Republican rally was held at Moroni last night. The speakers were George A. Smith and Andrew Jensen.

Among the visitors at the Democratic state headquarters this afternoon were A. J. Weber, of Ogden and Nathan T. Porter.

The prohibitionists will hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. A. B. Garrett, 432 south Third East street, tomorrow evening.

Charles Crane and Henry W. Lawrence will speak at the Wilford school house, on the corner of Fourteenth South and Eleventh East streets, tomorrow night.

Mrs. Cohen leaves for Cache county tomorrow morning to be absent from this city for the next three days. She goes to organize several new ladies Democratic clubs in the northern part of the State.

The German-American Democratic club will hold a meeting at their headquarters, 158 State street, this evening.

The speakers will be Charles Crane, Professor H. K. Evenson, John Derr, Morris Sommer and Michael Kopp.

R. Flavius Brobst, of Chicago, has decided to remain over in this city until Saturday. He speaks in Ogden on Thursday evening and will address an audience in the Democratic Wigwam here with Judge Powers on Saturday night.

Mr. Brobst has the reputation of being an orator of great magnetic force and attainment.

The following schedule for Republican speeches in the State for tomorrow night has been prepared: W. D. Livingston at Castle Dale, Arthur Brown at Woodruff, Gov. Walter George Sutherland and C. E. Allen at Fillmore, A. L. Thomas at Kanab, Judge Botkin at Ophir, F. T. McGurrin at Woodland, John M. Whitaker at Oakley, James T. Hammond and George M. Cannon at Marysville, George A. Smith and Andrew Jensen at Mayfield, W. G. Van Horn at Santaquin, H. S. Tanner at Provo, James Devine and James H. Anderson at Clarkston, and Mrs. J. Ellen Foster at Payson.

A number of the residents of Murray will meet on Thursday evening at 7:30 in the school house to organize a branch of the Social Democratic party. This will be the strongest Socialist organization in the State, with the exception of Bingham, where the Socialists are polling a large vote. The party will be the Democratic party next month.

Cheers for Pettigrew mingled with cheers for McKinley and Hanna that were given as the speaker concluded. The party was then driven to the train.

"All right," said Mr. Hanna, with a laugh, "but I would like to stay here all day and discuss this thing. But I want to tell you that the fattest of fatness will be the Democratic party next month."

"Say, senator, that man thinks the world is flat, don't pay any attention to him," yelled the farmer.

"All right," said Mr. Hanna, with a laugh, "but I would like to stay here all day and discuss this thing. But I want to tell you that the fattest of fatness will be the Democratic party next month."

"Say, senator, that man thinks the world is flat, don't pay any attention to him," yelled the farmer.

"All right," said Mr. Hanna, with a laugh, "but I would like to stay here all day and discuss this thing. But I want to tell you that the fattest of fatness will be the Democratic party next month."

"Say, senator, that man thinks the world is flat, don't pay any attention to him," yelled the farmer.

"All right," said Mr. Hanna, with a laugh, "but I would like to stay here all day and discuss this thing. But I want to tell you that the fattest of fatness will be the Democratic party next month."

"Say, senator, that man thinks the world is flat, don't pay any attention to him," yelled the farmer.

"All right," said Mr. Hanna, with a laugh, "but I would like to stay here all day and discuss this thing. But I want to tell you that the fattest of fatness will be the Democratic party next month."

"Say, senator, that man thinks the world is flat, don't pay any attention to him," yelled the farmer.

"All right," said Mr. Hanna, with a laugh, "but I would like to stay here all day and discuss this thing. But I want to tell you that the fattest of fatness will be the Democratic party next month."

"Say, senator, that man thinks the world is flat, don't pay any attention to him," yelled the farmer.

"All right," said Mr. Hanna, with a laugh, "but I would like to stay here all day and discuss this thing. But I want to tell you that the fattest of fatness will be the Democratic party next month."

"Say, senator, that man thinks the world is flat, don't pay any attention to him," yelled the farmer.

"All right," said Mr. Hanna, with a laugh, "but I would like to stay here all day and discuss this thing. But I want to tell you that the fattest of fatness will be the Democratic party next month."

"Say, senator, that man thinks the world is flat, don't pay any attention to him," yelled the farmer.

"All right," said Mr. Hanna, with a laugh, "but I would like to stay here all day and discuss this thing. But I want to tell you that the fattest of fatness will be the Democratic party next month."

"Say, senator, that man thinks the world is flat, don't pay any attention to him," yelled the farmer.

"All right," said Mr. Hanna, with a laugh, "but I would like to stay here all day and discuss this thing. But I want to tell you that the fattest of fatness will be the Democratic party next month."

"Say, senator, that man thinks the world is flat, don't pay any attention to him," yelled the farmer.

"All right," said Mr. Hanna, with a laugh, "but I would like to stay here all day and discuss this thing. But I want to tell you that the fattest of fatness will be the Democratic party next month."

"Say, senator, that man thinks the world is flat, don't pay any attention to him," yelled the farmer.

"All right," said Mr. Hanna, with a laugh, "but I would like to stay here all day and discuss this thing. But I want to tell you that the fattest of fatness will be the Democratic party next month."

"Say, senator, that man thinks the world is flat, don't pay any attention to him," yelled the farmer.

"All right," said Mr. Hanna, with a laugh, "but I would like to stay here all day and discuss this thing. But I want to tell you that the fattest of fatness will be the Democratic party next month."

"Say, senator, that man thinks the world is flat, don't pay any attention to him," yelled the farmer.

"All right," said Mr. Hanna, with a laugh, "but I would like to stay here all day and discuss this thing. But I want to tell you that the fattest of fatness will be the Democratic party next month."

"Say, senator, that man thinks the world is flat, don't pay any attention to him," yelled the farmer.

TRUTH

and nothing but the truth. Our business is merely to bring you and our goods together. Then you will do the rest. If you are in need of any kind of you are bound to purchase from us when you see the BEAUTIFUL FANCY FURNITURE we have just received. We have now a magnificent stock of Parlor Sets, Seeltes, Davenport, Rockers, Stands and everything necessary to furnish the Parlor in the grandest of style. Prices reasonable.

...PARLOR FURNITURE...

H. DINWOODEY FURNITURE CO.

J. Auerbach and Bro

Wholesale and Retail Dry Goods etc

Hanna's Campaign Tour.

Aberdeen, S. D., Oct. 17.—The actual hard work of the present campaign tour of Senator Hanna through the northwest began at an early hour today at Redfield, where a large crowd had gathered. The air was stinging cold. Senator Hanna was received with cheers. He said in part:

"I have come out to South Dakota for the first time in my life to tell you people here just what we think in the East and what will be the result of the election, that the State of South Dakota next November will regain her place in the favor of the Republican party, and why not? All the good people of this whole country are rallying to the support of Mr. McKinley, standing by his administration, giving their verdict in favor of it and saying, well done, patriotic man of this country."

At Northville, where the train stopped a moment, Mr. Hanna addressed a fair sized crowd of farmers from the rear platform of his car.

At Aberdeen, in the heart of the great South Dakota wheat belt, the train stopped for an hour.

The meeting at Aberdeen developed some lively questioning between Senator Hanna and people in the crowd.

Senator Fry spoke briefly, taking imperialism as his main subject, ridiculing the issue of Mr. McKinley, standing by his administration, giving their verdict in favor of it and saying, well done, patriotic man of this country."

At Northville, where the train stopped a moment, Mr. Hanna addressed a fair sized crowd of farmers from the rear platform of his car.

At Aberdeen, in the heart of the great South Dakota wheat belt, the train stopped for an hour.

The meeting at Aberdeen developed some lively questioning between Senator Hanna and people in the crowd.

Senator Fry spoke briefly, taking imperialism as his main subject, ridiculing the issue of Mr. McKinley, standing by his administration, giving their verdict in favor of it and saying, well done, patriotic man of this country."

At Northville, where the train stopped a moment, Mr. Hanna addressed a fair sized crowd of farmers from the rear platform of his car.

At Aberdeen, in the heart of the great South Dakota wheat belt, the train stopped for an hour.

The meeting at Aberdeen developed some lively questioning between Senator Hanna and people in the crowd.

Senator Fry spoke briefly, taking imperialism as his main subject, ridiculing the issue of Mr. McKinley, standing by his administration, giving their verdict in favor of it and saying, well done, patriotic man of this country."

At Northville, where the train stopped a moment, Mr. Hanna addressed a fair sized crowd of farmers from the rear platform of his car.

At Aberdeen, in the heart of the great South Dakota wheat belt, the train stopped for an hour.

The meeting at Aberdeen developed some lively questioning between Senator Hanna and people in the crowd.

Senator Fry spoke briefly, taking imperialism as his main subject, ridiculing the issue of Mr. McKinley, standing by his administration, giving their verdict in favor of it and saying, well done, patriotic man of this country."

At Northville, where the train stopped a moment, Mr. Hanna addressed a fair sized crowd of farmers from the rear platform of his car.

At Aberdeen, in the heart of the great South Dakota wheat belt, the train stopped for an hour.

The meeting at Aberdeen developed some lively questioning between Senator Hanna and people in the crowd.

Senator Fry spoke briefly, taking imperialism as his main subject, ridiculing the issue of Mr. McKinley, standing by his administration, giving their verdict in favor of it and saying, well done, patriotic man of this country."

At Northville, where the train stopped a moment, Mr. Hanna addressed a fair sized crowd of farmers from the rear platform of his car.

At Aberdeen, in the heart of the great South Dakota wheat belt, the train stopped for an hour.

The meeting at Aberdeen developed some lively questioning between Senator Hanna and people in the crowd.

Senator Fry spoke briefly, taking imperialism as his main subject, ridiculing the issue of Mr. McKinley, standing by his administration, giving their verdict in favor of it and saying, well done, patriotic man of this country."

At Northville, where the train stopped a moment, Mr. Hanna addressed a fair sized crowd of farmers from the rear platform of his car.

At Aberdeen, in the heart of the great South Dakota wheat belt, the train stopped for an hour.

The meeting at Aberdeen developed some lively questioning between Senator Hanna and people in the crowd.

Senator Fry spoke briefly, taking imperialism as his main subject, ridiculing the issue of Mr. McKinley, standing by his administration, giving their verdict in favor of it and saying, well done, patriotic man of this country."

At Northville, where the train stopped a moment, Mr. Hanna addressed a fair sized crowd of farmers from the rear platform of his car.

At Aberdeen, in the heart of the great South Dakota wheat belt, the train stopped for an hour.

The meeting at Aberdeen developed some lively questioning between Senator Hanna and people in the crowd.

Senator Fry spoke briefly, taking imperialism as his main subject, ridiculing the issue of Mr. McKinley, standing by his administration, giving their verdict in favor of it and saying, well done, patriotic man of this country."

At Northville, where the train stopped a moment, Mr. Hanna addressed a fair sized crowd of farmers from the rear platform of his car.

At Aberdeen, in the heart of the great South Dakota wheat belt, the train stopped for an hour.

The meeting at Aberdeen developed some lively questioning between Senator Hanna and people in the crowd.

Senator Fry spoke briefly, taking imperialism as his main subject, ridiculing the issue of Mr. McKinley, standing by his administration, giving their verdict in favor of it and saying, well done, patriotic man of this country."

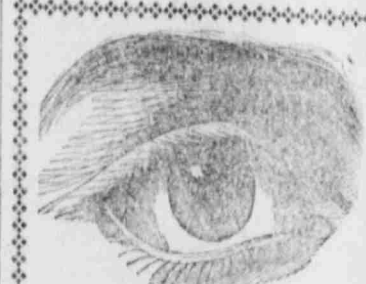

At Northville, where the train stopped a moment, Mr. Hanna addressed a fair sized crowd of farmers from the rear platform of his car.

At Aberdeen, in the heart of the great South Dakota wheat belt, the train stopped for an hour.

The meeting at Aberdeen developed some lively questioning between Senator Hanna and people in the crowd.

Senator Fry spoke briefly, taking imperialism as his main subject, ridiculing the issue of Mr. McKinley, standing by his administration, giving their verdict in favor of it and saying, well done, patriotic man of this country."

At Northville, where the train stopped a moment, Mr. Hanna addressed a fair sized crowd of farmers from the rear platform of his car.

80 PER CENT of all chronic headaches are due to some form of eye trouble, requiring glasses as the remedy. Other disorders, arising from an over-expenditure of nerve force, occasioned by defective eyes, are also entirely cured by removing the